DETACHMENT 4 LITTLE ROCK AFB, AR

DET 4 is an integral operation critical to the mission success of the 19th Airlift Wing (AMC), 314th Airlift Wing (AETC), and the 189th Airlift Wing (ANG). We enjoy the unique relationship being aligned under the 19th Maintenance Group, but organizationally belonging to the 373d Training Squadron, 982d Training Group, Sheppard AFB, TX. DET 4 IS the Center of Excellence for C-130 maintenance training and is the first choice of all U.S. and foreign ally nations when it comes to C-130J training.

MISSION

Empower C-130 Global Operations

VISION

Enhance performance through education to forge the leaders of tomorrow

Integrated Cockpit Systems Trainer, $31.4 million

Flight Control Trainer, $14.8 million

Engine Propeller Trainer, $13.8 million

Training Equipment: DET 4 is equipped with a complete suite of state-of-the-art maintenance trainers valued in excess of $60 million that cover the entire C-130E/H/J fleet

- These trainers allow us to teach from basic knowledge to advanced troubleshooting
- These trainers greatly reduce the demand for operational assets which saves taxpayers' dollars
- DET 4 provides aircrew familiarization training on an as needed basis, greatly enhancing the wing's ability to meet its mission
- DET 4 has access to 3 Ground Instructional Training Aircraft to reduce impact on operational assets
- DET 4 works closely with 19 MOS and the USMC's Maintenance Training Unit 1078 (KC-130J aircraft) to share our knowledge, experience and limited training resources
- USAF and International units routinely call on DET 4 for technical assistance and research
- Conducts DV tours for countries such as Romania, Kazakhstan, Canada, Sri Lanka, Iraq, and India
- International course development
